The Indiana District is composed of two Fleets; Fleet 154 in the northern part of the State and Fleet 270 in the central region. The District Regatta alternates between each location every year.

This year, the Regatta was hosted by the Indianapolis Sailing Club on Geist Lake on the northeast side of the City.

Peter McGinity, the newly elected District Commodore served as Regatta Chairman while Paul White, a prior Y-Flyer national champion, served as Race Committee Chairman.

The Regatta was held on Saturday & Sunday morning, June 19th & 20th. Although this region has been deluged by frequent thunderstorms in recent weeks, Saturday dawned sunny and hot. Usually this results in very light winds but not this time. The winds were 8 to 10 knots and builded throughout the afternoon with major shifts from northwest to northeast and back again. Brad Wagnon from Fleet 154, ably assisted by his crew Bryan Bahler and Michael Richey, was the man to beat with finishes of 2 - 1 - 1 - 3 on Saturday. Even though the wind was very light from the north on Sunday morning, Brad and crew won the fifth race and the District championship.

The 2nd, 3rd, 4th positions were hotly contested with only six points separating the three. Trophies were presented to the top three positions. Although we were disappointed by the light turnout, once again those boats that did participate enjoyed some exciting and testing races.

On Saturday evening, participants and guests enjoyed a barbequed pork or chicken dinner on the ISC deck.
